“ You quickly get used to everybody fussing over you during your treatment so it came as quite a shock when it all ended and I was sent home. It was very isolating at first; I wish there had been a Health & Wellbeing programme back then; I would have definitely signed up ”

Introduction

We understand that the journey you have been on is as unique as you are, however, we also know from speaking to patients who have undergone treatment for cancer that often they feel isolated and unsupported once their treatment has ended.

We understand the impact that cancer and its treatment has on a person so we want to provide a helping hand to enable you to adjust to life after this, and equip you with the skills and knowledge to successfully manage your condition and the effects of its treatment, so that you can move forward and live a fulfilled life.

The programme will provide you with the opportunity to meet with others who have experienced cancer treatment and if you wish to, share your own experiences, which for some has proven to be a beneficial part of their recovery process.

Aim of the programme

The programme aims to address health and wellbeing needs following treatment and offers both practical and psychological support, covering a broad range of topics such as;

- Money
- Work
- Housing
- Relationships
- Diet
- Exercise and
- Mental health

It also aims to equip you with a better understanding of how to recognise the signs and symptoms of your cancer, and provide you with practical information and advice to support you with the management of the effects of your treatment.

By the end of the programme you will know about the local support groups, resources and services available to you in the community and how to access them.

Programme details

The programme is delivered over four weekly workshops which last approximately 4 hours, and include a 15 minute comfort break, refreshments throughout and a 30 minute lunch break.

Workshops will feature the following topics:

- Getting to know you and understanding your needs
- Recognising and managing signs and symptoms
- Maintaining a healthy lifestyle and wellbeing
- Relaxation and managing stress
- The impact cancer has on finances

Each workshop is delivered in a relaxed and informal environment, and is facilitated by key health professionals and subject experts.

You will have the opportunity to ask any questions or discuss any concerns you may have, in a safe and confidential space.
